As Janet's death was researched, the burial of a previously unknown first child of Janet's and Frank's was found. The family called her Janet after their mother. Janet died from an operation to tie her ovarian tubes after the birth of her 6th child. Because Ontario law prevented single father's from raising their children single, after the funeral Frank and his wife's mother came to Lethbridge, Alberta where she lived and could take care of the children. The girls lived with their Grandmother, Ellen Tennant, for some time after their mother's death. Frank met and married Wanda Attella Anderson Maggs as shown in the following marriage certificate.
